

Alison Gould
Administrator

“More than anything else, traveling and experiencing another culture first-hand has the potential to completely alter a person’s worldview.”

Alison began her career with White Horse Advisors in 2013, as an Administrative Assistant. Today, in addition to providing client services and daily operational functions, she is also responsible for office management, bookkeeping, compliance coordination, and the development of company policies and procedures.

Alison graduated from Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts in 2012 with a Bachelor’s Degree in Women and Gender Studies. While pursuing her degree, she attended the Danish Institute for Study Abroad, where she also studied European Culture and History. She has experience in crisis intervention that has helped her hone the ability to keep calm and level-headed in adverse situations.

In her spare time, Alison practices dressage at a riding school in Roswell and volunteers at the Chastain Horse Park Therapeutic Riding Program. She also enjoys exploring the city’s vibrant music and arts scene, traveling, and spending time with her friends and family. Alison currently resides in Dunwoody, where she is an active member of the Jewish Federation of Atlanta.
