

Kim Brown

Recruiter

As part of the White Horse team, Kim Brown is responsible for providing day to day operational support to the CEO including schedule management, coordination of logistics for speaking engagements, and providing post-event follow-up with prospective clients and independent consultants. In addition to providing executive support, Kim is also our in-house recruiter. As such, she is responsible for growing our national network of independent exit planning consultants.

Prior to joining White Horse Advisors, Kim worked at several notable Atlanta-based companies as an accountant and a recruiter for accounting and finance professionals. After a rewarding stint as a stay-at-home parent, Kim resumed her work in recruiting and office administration.

Kim graduated from the University of Central Florida with a Bachelors of Business Administration in Accounting. After graduation she moved to Atlanta where met her husband, Erik. Kim and Erik now live in Marietta with their three children. Outside of work, Kim is a fitness enthusiast and volunteers at her children's schools in various capacities, such as Vice President of Tritt Elementary School Foundation's Board of Directors. Kim and her family also enjoy spending time together hiking, biking, and—most of all—skiing.
